UF Ortho participates in National Wear Red Day.

Published: Feb 7, 2020
Category: College of Medicine [1]
News [2]
Orthopaedics and Rehabilitation [3]

February is American Heart Month and Feb. 7 National Wear Red Day. National Wear Red Day warns women of their Number 1 health threat — heart disease. The color red is known for signifying strength, power and love. What better color to represent the strong women in our life affected by heart disease? If you ask around, you’ll probably find someone in your home, office, clinical unit or team who has been affected by heart disease.
UF Ortho participates in National Wear Red Day.
Published on Department of Orthopaedics and Rehabilitation » College of Medicine » University of Florida (https://www.ortho.ufl.edu)

UF Health Orthopaedics participated in National #WearREDDay with hopes to raise awareness and help our physicians, clinical leaders, staff and patients band together to be better advocates for those with heart problems.

Source URL: https://www.ortho.ufl.edu/news/2020/02/07/uf-ortho-participates-national-wear-red-day

Links
[1] https://www.ortho.ufl.edu/taxonomy/term/9
[2] https://www.ortho.ufl.edu/taxonomy/term/6
[3] https://www.ortho.ufl.edu/taxonomy/term/8